

The Benefits of a facial

When was the last time you treated yourself to a spa facial? A facial is a great way to treat your skin. Regular facials will help you achieve a clear complexion and a nice glow.

Most individuals carry stress and tension in their head, neck, and shoulders. During a facial, you will experience a massage, designed to relieve muscle tension in all of those areas. This will leave you feeling totally calm and relaxed.

A skin care specialist or esthetician will choose the ingredients to help your skin type. The esthetician may choose a mask to detoxify your skin or hydrate your skin. By getting a proper analysis you will not only learn your skin type, but an esthetician will be able to create a facial experience that addresses your skin's needs.
